Capvest Venture Fund and Custer Capital Venture Funds participated in a $1.5 million investment in Vested Health, LLC. Prior investors also participating in the round included Adena Ventures and Mountaineer Capital.

Vested Health is an industry leader operating a new form of health insurance - a consumer directed health program (CDHP), serving employers with 10 to 2,000 employees. The soaring cost of health care is causing employers to closely review their health care plans in order to stabilize expenses and provide a proven cost-effective solution. The CDHP model is a fast-growing, emerging product in the insurance industry designed to create a more efficient healthcare market by shifting control and responsibility to consumers. Excessive premium increases and limits on consumers' choice of healthcare providers have sparked strong interest in CDHP's throughout the United States.
