Capvest Venture Fund and Custer Capital Venture Funds participated in a $3 million investment in Construction Software Technologies, Inc. Other investors also participating in the round included Adena Ventures, River Cities Capital and Chrysalis Ventures.

Construction Software Technologies offers the most comprehensive online preconstruction management service in the industry today. That's what general contractors, subcontractors and suppliers have access to when they subscribe to iSqFt. The company's application facilitates every aspect of the preconstruction process - from helping companies find additional work to streamlining the bidding process - bringing everyone together in one place for a more effective, cost efficient process. These benefits are delivered through iSqFt's two primary service products: the Private Construction Office™ and the Internet Plan Room™.
